

ABSTRACT

A method for buyer-driven targeting comprising the steps of: separately receiving from each of a plurality of buyer entities a respective third party proof of purchase record; entering information contained in the received proof of purchase records into a searchable electronic database; obtaining search criteria for the database; searching the information in the database based on the search criteria to obtain a group of buyer entities; and providing an incentive to each of a plurality of the buyer entities in the group.

SEARCHED
SERIALIZED
INDEXED
FILED
APR 22 1998
U.S. PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE